

GERMAN MAGNATE TALKS WITH GARY AND KENT IN ROME

Hugo Stinnes Confers With American Capitalists Monday

(By The Associated Press)
ROME, March 26.—Hugo Stinnes, the German industrial magnate, who is visiting Italy today, interviewed Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation and Fred I. Kent, vice president of the Bankers' Trust company of New York. Herr Stinnes is leaving tonight for Milan to meet Premier Mussolini who has gone there to inaugurate the work of constructing an automobile road between Milan and the Italian lakes.

From conversations with Herr Stinnes has had with the American delegates to the congress of the International Chamber of Commerce it appears that he came to Rome when he heard of American proposals that a portion or all of the war debts owed the United States would be remitted after the European states had given assurance they would put their finances in order. Herr Stinnes came to Rome yesterday without notice before hand of his coming, even the German ambassador knew nothing about it until he heard of the magnate's presence in Rome thru the newspapers.

While Stinnes refused to grant an interview today, saying he had no statement to make, it is learned that he is in favor of the American suggestion to call an international conference at which all the countries interested would be reported by delegates having full power in order to be able definitely to solve the reparations stabilization questions. He is represented as believing the United States is the country best adapted for the advancement being outside of Europe and unaffected by the influences of the contending parties.

BELGIAN SOCIALISTS HAVE NO SUGGESTIONS

(By The Associated Press)
BRUSSELS, March 26.—The Belgian Socialist committee has returned from the Ruhr but without any new suggestions for a settlement of the reparations dispute between the Franco-Belgians and the Germans.

M. Wauters, a member of the delegation said the occupational forces had not taken brutal measures and the population did not complain of the conduct of the troops, but that the German workmen said they were unwilling to work under bayonets.

The state's attorney characterized the defense as fabrication and the shooting as "cold blooded murder."

BANKERS' SYNDICATE PURCHASES PLANTS OF STANDARD PARTS CO.

Company Which Composes Eight Plants in Receivers' Hands

(By The Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., March 26.—Sale of two of the eight plants of the Standard Parts company, Cleveland's largest automobile accessory manufacturers and its three service stations for $1,025,000 to a syndicate of bankers, headed by Howe, Snow and Bartles of Grand Rapids, Mich., was approved by Federal Judge D. C. Westenhaver late today.

The Standard Parts which has been in receivership since September 1, 1921, has a paid-in capitalization of $20,700,000 and at one time its resources were listed at $25,000,000.

Today's sale involved the Pontiac Spring Plate at Pontiac, Michigan, and the Perfection Springs company at Cleveland and the Standard Parts company service stations at New York, Boston and Cleveland. All are operating without loss, it was said.

Under the agreement the purchasers take over these plants as of March 1, last and assume the present contracts. The remainder of the plants of the Standard Parts company will be sold here at auction Thursday morning. They include the Canton Spring plant, at Canton, Ohio, and the Eaton Axle, Standard Welding, American Axle, Heiss Spring and Axle and West 70th Street plants here, and the common stock of the Bock Spring Bearing company, Toledo.

In addition to the purchase price one tenth of which was paid in cash and the balance of which is to be in nine months, the syndicate will pay Frank A. Scott, receiver for the Standard Parts company $50,000 for expenses incurred.

There were several bidders for the party, the next highest bid being $1,010,000.

SUGAR SPECULATION IS ATTRIBUTABLE TO THE PRESENT TARIFF

This is Statement Issued by Republican Committee

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 26.—The present speculation in sugar is more attributed to the Fordney-McCumber tariff, the Republican national committee declared tonight in a statement than was the recent speculation in Piggly Wiggly stock.

Declaring the prevailing duties in sugar were 2 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents greater than the Underwood tariff, the statement contended that to assert that an increase of a cent a pound causes an advance of 6 to 8 cents a pound in the price of sugar is to give utterance to clotted nonsense.

"Democratic politicians, free trade advocates and a large class of demagogues and agitators who are attempting to make political capital out of the present sugar situation," it was added, "are working hand in glove with sugar speculators. Nothing will so boost the price of sugar as the continued cry of these gentlemen that sugar is going to twenty cents a pound."

COURT ORDER IS ISSUED AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT

Edward F. Goltra Gets Temporary Restraining Order

(By The Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 26.—A courier, armed with a temporary federal court order restraining the government's seizure of the river fleet taken from Edward F. Goltra, lessee, by Colonel T. O. Ashburn of the war department tonight was speeding by automobile to Cape Girardeau, Mo., 131 miles south, to intercept Colonel Ashburn who is sailing down the Mississippi river with the barges.

Attendants of federal court said it was a matter of speculation whether Colonel Ashburn would yield to the order if served with as is planned at Cape Girardeau, as the war department official was on the federal tow boat Vicksburg enroute to Fayville, Illinois and Caseyville, Ky., to complete seizure of the fleet.

James E. Carroll, district attorney said the action of the war department in seizing the boats, came as a surprise to him, when served with a copy of the restraining order, as hearing on which is scheduled to be held tomorrow.

He asserted he was without instructions from Washington as to his course at the hearing. "The war department seized the barges on its own initiative," he declared. "I was not a party to it in any way."

The order was issued today after seizure of part of the fleet Sunday, after Goltra had refused to surrender the boats on demand of Secretary of War Weeks who abrogated Goltra's contract to operate the fleet on grounds of alleged failure to maintain the fleet as a common carrier.

Foster, charged with violating the criminal syndicalism law of Michigan.

Ruthenburg, a defense witness and co-defendant with Foster that the Communist party had passed out of existence last January, merging its identity with the Legal Workers party, the prosecution on cross-examination won an admission that Mr. Ruthenburg had attended a communist gathering in New York on Sunday, March 18.

Saunders Announces He Will Bring Suit

(By The Associated Press)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 26.—Clarence Saunders tonight announced that he will enter suit "against each of the brokers who was in default," and "in addition thereto, I will sue the New York Stock Exchange for conspiracy," as a result of failure to deliver Class "A" common stock of the Piggly Wiggly stores, Inc., within the customary 24 hours after trades were made during the stormy trading in Piggly Wiggly on the stock exchange last Tuesday.

Mr. Saunders announced this as his next move in the controversy over the Piggly Wiggly trading which put the stock exchange in an uproar Tuesday and resulted in the elimination of that stock from the "big board" and stock exchange order to extend until today the time for delivery of stock sold short on the exchange March 20.

"I took delivery on the stock today, which was due on my call of the 20th and which should have been delivered the next day but, in taking this delivery I did so with the full understanding that I would hold responsible and liable not only the brokers who made delivery but also the New York Stock Exchange," Mr. Saunders said in a formal statement issued tonight, "and I shall enter suit against each of the brokers who was in default on his delivery and also I shall sue the New York Stock Exchange for the purpose of collecting the money due me and for the further purpose of the court record being made public property for the American people to see the trickery and unethical methods of Wall Street and the New York Stock Exchange as practiced by them."

Mr. Saunders said in previous statements scored Wall street and the stock exchange severely. "Let no one fool himself that I need money worse than Wall street for with them money is all and with me and others outside Wall street we have honor and honesty as well," was another quip in tonight's statement.

TRAFFIC EXPERT'S OPINION ON RAIL GROUPINGS GIVEN

Any Plan Should Include Gulf of Mexico Outlet He Says

(By The Associated Press)
SEATTLE, Wash., March 26.—Any grouping of railroads into systems under the authority recently conferred on the interstate commerce commission should provide for thru coast-to-coast lines which also should have outlets to the Gulf of Mexico in the view of the Washington railroad commission as given by its traffic expert at a commerce commission hearing here today.

The expert Owen C. Calderhead, was on the stand during much of today's session. He disapproved at length the northern groupings under consideration by the commission which would include the Northern Pacific, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Chicago Great Western and Minneapolis and St. Louis railroads, in one group and the Great Northern, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Duluth & Iron Range, and Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroads in another.

It would be unwise to separate the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, and the Northern Pacific and Great Northern the expert contended.

In case the commission permitted consolidation of the Burlington, Northern Pacific and Great Northern, with or without eastern connections, Mr. Calderhead urged the consolidation of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul with the Union Pacific.

The state department of public works, he said, favored the creation of terminal companies at all important trade centers to enable all industries to reach any and all railway lines.

SEEK AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

(By The Associated Press)
SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 26.—The assembly of the California legislature today initiated a measure to seek an amendment to the constitution of the United States barring from citizenship Orientals of American birth. It adopted without a dissenting vote a joint memorial to congress urging the adoption of an amendment to Article XIV, which would make the article read that "all persons of white African and American Indian parents, born in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are residents of the United States and the state in which they reside."

This would exclude Orientals by omission from the list. The memorial now goes to the senate.

FAMOUS ACTRESS ANSWERS FINAL CURTAIN MONDAY

Divine Sarah Passed Away at Her Home in Paris

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, March 26.—Sarah Bernhardt died peacefully in the arms of her son, Maurice at one minute before 8 o'clock tonight. In life she had an amazing power of emotion, of marvelous realism and pathos in her acting of death scenes. At the end of her days she quietly drifted away into eternity, tired after her long fight against death, which she did not wish, but never feared.

Hope for the life of the great actress had long since been abandoned and half an hour before she passed away those in attendance saw her sinking beyond recovery the knowing her recuperative powers, it was thought she might live thruout the night.

M. Bernhardt died in a large room on the second floor of her home with windows wide open on the Boulevard Pereire, the noise of trucks and the rail keeping up a low roar to which she was long accustomed.

It was the sudden closing of these windows, opened on the finest day of spring that gave the signal to those waiting and watching without that Bernhardt was dead.

Death was due to a renewed attack of uraemic poisoning, which began Friday.

The widow of Edmond Rostand, whose fame is linked with that of Bernhardt and the poet's son, Maurice Rostand were at the bedside. Bernhardt's grandson, M. Grosse, brought the first glimmers into the death chamber—Mauve and white lilies. Flowers came from many friends quickly, and soon the room was heaped with them.

ELEPHANT PROVES EXPENSIVE ANIMAL

(By The Associated Press)
ROCKFORD, Ill., March 26.—Rockford's zoo, which was dissipated after its inhabitants had consumed $2,600 worth of forage and supplies had its day in court here today in a suit by local concerns to obtain payments for supplies, the largest item of which was hay for "Big Barge," zoo elephant. It is taking nine attorneys, seven of whom represent twenty defendants, to try the case as well as an outside county judge, Judge P. L. Person of Lake county, who is sitting on the case because Judge F. E. Carpenter of this court is named as an official of the Zoological Society, the formal existence of which is the chief point in the suit. Three years ago several public spirited persons contributed toward a zoo in a local park.

Their donations purchased the animals. It was planned to form a society. Whether or not this society was perfected is disputed. Its purported officers and members are defendants in the present suit. The hearing today was consumed by verbal sparring between attorneys, all nine of which are taking part in the festivities.

It is hoped that evidence may be taken in the case tomorrow in intervals between repartee by counsel.

FIVE PERSONS DEAD IN APARTMENT HOUSE FIRE IN NEW YORK

Texas Cowboy Escapes By the Use of Lariat

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 26.—A spectacular fire which today swept the Princeton Apartments on West 57th street, occupied chiefly by members of the theatrical profession caused the deaths of five persons.

The blaze, believed to have been started by a drunken man tossing a lighted cigar in the hallway, soon attacked the upper floors of the seven story building. Frightened tenants crawled onto window sills. Several jumped.

There were many dramatic scenes and rescues.

One of the most spectacular escapes was that of Henry Zeigler, formerly a Texas cowboy who came to New York to study art. After getting his wife and child to the street he returned for some papers. Cut off from the stairs, he took from a burned drawer a lariat he had used on the plains. Making this fast, he lowered himself to the street.

Ann Fires, an exhibition roller skater was killed by jumping from the sixth floor to a stone court yard. Mrs. Margaret Lee, 65, and her daughter, Emily, a stenographer, were burned to death in their suite. Two bodies found later in the runs were identified as those of E. J. Lind, 60, and Gaston, Mozule, a French war veteran.

STOCK EXCHANGE ANNOUNCES ALL DELIVERIES MADE

Contracts for Piggly Wiggly Executed on Exchange Filled

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 26.—All deliveries of Class "A" common, Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., under contracts executed on the last day of the stock was on the "big board" of the New York Stock Exchange were completed this afternoon, officers of the exchange announced tonight.

The total amount handled thru the stock clearing association was 11,200 shares, including both long and short interests.

Exchange directors declared there was no basis for a statement by Clarence Saunders, president of the corporation, that there was a short interest of 25,000 shares.

Mr. Saunders has received all stock at prices he contracted to be paid for it and is in exactly the same position in all respects as the stock had been delivered to him on March 21, the statement of exchange officials continues.

It also is asserted that suspension of trading in the stock on the "big board" was in strict accordance with the constitution of the exchange and resulted in substantial justice to all parties.

L. W. Baldwin, vice-president of the Illinois Central, was elected president of the Missouri Pacific, effective April 1.

ALLEGED BRIBERY OF SMALL JURY IS NOW BEING PROBED

Hears Testimony of More Than Half of 35 Witnesses

(By The Associated Press)
WAUKEGAN, Ill., March 26.—The grand jury investigation into reports of alleged attempts at jury fixing during Governor Len Small's trial for conspiracy here closed its first day's deliberations tonight with testimony from more than half of the 35 witnesses subpoenaed before it. In its possession, it was said the jury now had the more important of the testimony to be offered, Leslie Small, son of Governor Small and Col. A. E. Inglish, his son-in-law, remained in a local hotel after their arrival today waiting to testify before the investigating body but were not summoned. They as well as Werner W. Schroeder, counsel to the governor during his trial are to appear before the grand jury early tomorrow morning. State's Attorney A. V. Smith announced at the close of today's hearing.

That bench warrants may be issued for a number of witnesses that were subpoenaed but who did not appear in court today was indicated by State's Attorney Smith who conferred with Judge Clare C. Edwards and then read a list of witnesses in open court, checking the names of those who failed to respond. Among these were "Umbrella Mike" Boyle, Chicago labor leader who Smith said had reported he was sick and Louis Piquett, attached to the Chicago corporation, counsel's office.

The testimony of William Riley, former saloonkeeper of Antioch, Ill., who is alleged to have involved John B. Fields, a Small trial juror, in a confession to State's Attorney Smith regarding bribe money, was offered today. Riley apparently was taken into the jury room during lunch hour when no one was around. After testifying he was taken down a back stairs, rushed into a waiting automobile and driven away.

Antioch citizens with whom Fields, a deputy state game warden is popular, are reported to have made threats of violence against Riley.

Joseph Hahn, a venireman in the Small trial and said to have been implicated in Riley's confession testified as did William Musch, Sr., and his son, with whom Hahn lived. Charles Owens, a Chicago newspaperman who is said to have spent weeks investigating the charges of jury fixing was cloistered with the grand jury for more than two hours.

Thomas J. Symmes, a Chicago attorney has been appointed special assistant state's attorney and is aiding Attorney Smith in presenting the witnesses before the jury. It is expected that practically all the remainder of the witnesses subpoenaed to appear before the jury will testify tomorrow.

(By The Associated Press)
DUSSELDORF, March 26.—The French police of Schranhorst today arrested Clara Zetkin while she was on her way to Essen to address a communist meeting. Learning of her arrest General DeGoutte the French commander ordered that she be immediately released and permitted to continue her journey.

The general officer commanding her has addressed a proclamation to the population referring to attacks against the troops of occupation. He charges that these attacks are due directly to German nationalist propaganda which is supported by the German government. The proclamation declares that if the attacks are persisted in he would be obliged to take very severe measures.

THE MAN WITH AN ELEPHANT ON HIS HANDS

Years ago we used to go to the theater and hear DeWolfe Hopper in the opera "Wang" sing the song, "The Man With An Elephant On His Hands." The words of the chorus went something like this: "That elephant ate all night, and that elephant ate all day. He ate and ate until half past eight. And still the cry was, more hay." We always thought this was just a burlesque but a story sent out from Rockford last night proves it to be true. Three years ago some public spirited citizens decided to establish a zoo for the city of Rockford. Among other animals purchased was "Big Babe," an elephant.

THE FEAR OF WORK

It is said that a human being has a natural inclination toward two lines of endeavor, fighting and playing. Aside from these things, man is said to be a lazy animal. He is afraid of work and will do almost anything to get out of it.

The main object which some people have of acquiring wealth is to live without working. Heaven is generally thought of as a place of complete rest. The rich man who stays at his job and does a day's work frequently, is a fit subject to be interviewed by a feature writer for the Sunday supplement.

And yet, nine out of every ten successful men testify that they are what they are by virtue of hard work. The fear of work is one of the great stumbling blocks on the road to success.

NO OFFICIAL EMBARRASSMENT

The czarist faction in Russia is anticipating the death of Premier Lenin and planning a coup to put the successor of the late Czar on the Russian throne. The suggestion is plausible and, if the expected outbreak occurs, will repeat the history of other countries where factions have contended for control of the government. The mere mention of a proposed czarist movement, with the knowledge that its leaders are actively at work, ought to be sufficient reason for the United States to withhold recognition of the soviet government. Scores of people who have investigated conditions in Russia have predicted that the soviet regime could not last long, and Lenin's death will probably precipitate a crisis that may lead to a change of government. Fortunately our State department has not been thrown off its feet by the clamors of those who have urged American recognition of the soviet, and there will be no official embarrassment if a new czar appears in Russia.

YOUR FEARS

NEA Surgeons find 27 silver spoons in the stomach of a patient in a Kansas asylum. In addition to the spoons, he had swallowed some sponges, matches, pins and a few other delicacies that usually appeal only to ostriches and goats in the comic pictures.

It's a remarkable case. For the fortunate, who had tried to start a department store inside himself, apparently experienced no acute trouble as a result of his strange diet. His stomach had been "cut off" and he acted queerly, but symptoms were not pronounced enough for diagnosis until a doctor watched him through a keyhole and saw him swallow his 27th spoon.

Now, if any of us so-called sane people swallowed even one spoon, we'd be at death's door inside an hour. Also, probably, hysterical. This shows what fear and imagination do to us.

Give a man a drink of pre-war whiskey. Then, while he's enjoying the purring thrill, suddenly tell him that you got the whiskey from a bootlegger and tried it out on him to learn whether it was wood alcohol.

You know the result. Instantly he begins to "feel" symptoms—queer shooting pains, burning in the stomach and a dimness of sight. Let the drinkers' imagination continue unchecked, and inside an hour he'll be as physically upset, chances are, as if he really had swallowed wood alcohol.

His fear starts his imagination working. Imagination, in turn, produces symptoms of poisoning. This principle works, at times, in all of us. We may have eaten only the purest of foods. But if we get the fear that some of the food was tainted, and that we're victims of ptomaine, the probability is that we'll become acutely ill. Come, again, in reverse—"minute by minute, in every way, I get worse and worse."

Sometimes you tell the doctor, "I've had a lot to worry me lately, and I'm nervous and all upset and my stomach's in bad shape." "Worry, unbalancing certain of our endocrine glands, affects the nerves and causes hyper-acidity of the stomach. That starts indigestion. Introspection—self-analysis—similarly affects nearly every other part of the body. If you begin feeling your pulse every few minutes, your heart will speed up or slow down, according to whichever you fear.

Excellent medicine prescription is this: Forget yourself and your health. Nature in the average case cures quickly, if we allow her to go ahead without interference from our fears and imagination.

The Stranger Within Our Gates

(By W. H. Marbach)

The passing stranger or transient visitor in Jacksonville may hear people say, "This is a city of fine homes," or "This is a city of beautiful trees," but he judges the city through his own experience. That experience usually centers in the hotel accommodations offered him. Homes may be beautiful and citizens may be cordial and hospitable but who can blame the visitor for judging a city by the reception it gives him! And that reception is in the form of hotel service.

My first visit to Jacksonville introduced me not only to several choice people who offered me the hospitality of their homes, but also to the hotel accommodations offered by the city. Though the homes of the congregation of which I was soon to become pastor were opened to me, in view of the "prospecting" nature of my visit I begged to be given the freedom of a hotel.

Hearty and cordial was the welcome on the part of the human element but disappointing and (it was in the days of unpurified water) was the physical reception. Four years and more have not faded my recollections, and now while I enjoy the comforts and conveniences of a nice home, I often wonder about the impression made upon friends and visitors who judge us by our lack of first-class hotel accommodations.

Just ten days ago a college classmate who "makes" five middle western states in his travels for the Presbyterian church stopped at one of our hotels for a day or two. Gentleman that he was he did not complain to me or anyone else but when I asked him what he thought about the proposal to erect a new hotel he launched on a most interesting conversation, which included remarks that had better not be repeated. He ended up by saying, "But, stopping as I do in every kind of a hotel in every kind of a town, I get used to anything."

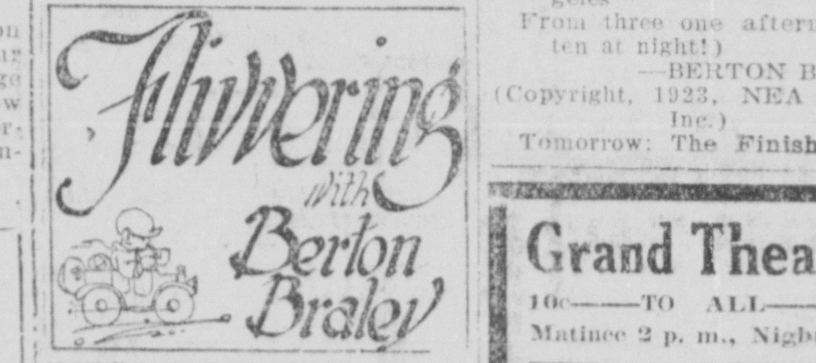

That kind of a statement is heroic for the man but is not especially complimentary to a city like Jacksonville. Here we are with education, culture, substantial wealth and business, with a creditable lot of folk, active boosting organizations and really a fine spirit abroad among us. But none of these things are a substitute for comfortable lodging and eating, together with other service which only a first-class hotel can give to the wayfaring man.

What has been done can be done. What was done by the progressive men and women who "floated" a lake, giving us pure water instead of mud, can be done and will be done by the same type of men and women who will sacrifice a little extra profit by investing in a new first-class hotel.

You in your snug home do not appreciate that you and the city are being judged every night and day by the visitor whose only abode in Jacksonville is the hotel. Not only the traveling salesman, but the Ocean-to-Ocean tourist, the prospecting preacher or business man, and countless others judge a city by the reception it gives them thru the hotels.

the way to overcome evil through the higher power of love.

HYMN: Nearer, my God, to thee, nearer to thee! E'en though it be a cross that raiseth me. Still all my song shall be, Nearer, my God, to thee, Nearer to thee! PRAYER: Steer thou the vessel of our life toward thyself, thou tranquil haven of all storm-tossed souls. Amen.

WHERE EVERYBODY HAS A HORN TO TOOT Los Angeles, the glamorous, where all the streets are clamorous with motor cars too numerous to count; Where real-estateors trot to you to sell a house and lot to you And population always on the mount. Los Angeles, where baby-talk quite naturally may be talk Of toll and mines and railway lines and fruit; A feverishly busy town, a tonic and a fizzy town, Where everybody has a horn to toot. Los Angeles, where roses are, yet where the people's noses are Sometimes assailed with oil and sooty smoke; Where one may quickly cop a roll and just as swiftly drop a roll, Be rich today—tomorrow wholly broke! A proud, enthusiastic town, at times a bit bombastic town, Where boosters boost by night as well as day. A town that has society of every known variety And every game on earth for them to play!

LETTERS WILL AID IN HOTEL CAMPAIGN

Committee to Bombard Citizens With Mail Matter in Effort to Secure Additional Subscriptions to Big Project—Co-Operation of all is Desired.

Three thousand letters are to be sent to citizens of Jacksonville in the next few days urging co-operation in the campaign for subscriptions to the new hotel project. The amount raised to date is $140,000, and the success of the venture will depend largely on the readiness with which more of the citizens take stock in the company that will build the hotel. Here is the letter which is going to 3,000 citizens. If you don't happen to get one, it does not mean that you can't subscribe. This is to be everybody's hotel, and you are included: Dear Citizen: You are no doubt aware that a mighty effort is being made at this time to erect a modern fire-proof hotel in Jacksonville, a hotel that will be adequate to meet the requirements of the traveling public and ever increasing number of visitors to our city.

Every citizen is interested in the advancement of his town and one of the very first things that impresses the stranger within our gates in the hotel. If it is a good one, his impression is good; if it is bad, he goes away disgruntled. The Hotel is the Parlor of the Community.

The Chamber of Commerce (which is just another name for organized citizenship) is attempting to raise the sum of $200,000.00 by popular subscription. If they succeed Jacksonville will be looked upon as one of the forward-going outstanding cities of Illinois. If they fail—well, what would your property be worth then?

The eyes of the state are focused upon us—we must not fail. We need your help, not by donating money, but by subscribing as liberally for shares of stock as your means will justify.

Can we count on you when the Committee calls? Let it be said that Jacksonville has the best hotel in Illinois. Sincerely yours, Hotel Executive Committee, Henry Frisch, Chairman M. F. Dunlap E. E. Crabtree J. W. Walton H. M. Capps R. Y. Rowe J. W. Merrigan H. J. Rodgers Harrison King

ENSEMBLE RECITAL AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Given by Twenty-Two Students and Illinois Woman's College Glee Club—Program one of Rare Merit.

Counter attractions need have no terror for the musical friends of the Woman's college when an ensemble recital is announced. This was abundantly proven Monday evening when twenty-two students plus the Illinois Woman's college glee club presented eleven numbers in a manner that would be highly creditable to any school anywhere.

There were three ensemble numbers for piano—just enough to balance the program. Of these two numbers were transcribed for the setting given while one was presented in its original form. Among the voice numbers there was one "arrangement."

Literature of the ensemble sort, except in orchestral works, is rare. To find combinations for organ and piano except in a work, ed over form is especially difficult.

The paucity of such numbers, doubtless due to the fact that the organ and piano are seldom found in each other's company, as each is sufficient unto itself.

However Mr. Demarest has set himself the grateful task in several instances of scoring a work for just this combination. The "Grand Aria" from his play played last evening proved that the ensemble of these two instruments is desirable and satisfying.

The glee club again proved its prowess in the number repeated from the concert of a week ago.

The Mendelssohn concerto had the support of an orchestra scoring transcribed for piano and organ and which added greatly to the effect.

Practically all studios were represented and the college has reason to be proud of the uniformly high standard shown.

THROUGH WITNESSED
CLOSE OF REVIVAL

Grace Church Packed as Big Meetings End—Dr. W. E. Spoonits Gave Stirring Sermon—Ministers Well Pleased with Results

Dr. W. E. Spoonits delivered a strong evangelistic sermon at the closing service of the Pan-Protestant revival at Grace church Sunday evening. The building was packed to the doors, over 1,200 people being in attendance.

Rev. C. D. Robertson presided; Rev. T. H. Tull read the scripture and Rev. A. P. Howells led in prayer. Splendid music was furnished by the union choir under the leadership of Prof. Arnold Lovejoy.

At the close of the service several professed conversion. A number of the ministers expressed satisfaction at the results of the meeting, and the hope was expressed that the experiment might be repeated next year with even greater success. Rev. W. H. Marback made the financial statement.

Rev. Mr. Spoonits took as his text Job 9-33. "Neither is there any daysman betwixt us, who might lay his hand upon us both." He explained how Christ is the daysman, or arbiter between God and man, to settle the world quarrel which has arisen on account of man's sin. He showed how God accepts no excuses, but demands that justice demands the penalty of the law. Then Christ steps in and arbitrates the case. God has accepted Him, and so must man.

Christ completely understands both parties, for he is the only one who completely understands both parties, for he is vitally related to both. I have no patience with any church or preacher that does not accept Him as the Divine Son of God as well as the son of man. As a man, he wept at the grave of Lazarus, but as a God he called the dead man back to life. At the fig tree, he hungered as a man, but as a God, he cursed it and it withered. As a man, he slept from weariness in the stern of the boat, as God he arose and quelled the storm. As a man, he was tried, condemned and crucified, as God, he conquered death and rose from the grave to bring life and immortality to men. The arbitrator desires to effect a happy settlement. He announces strict justice and fervent love as the principles upon which he intends to deliver judgment. The plaintiff asserts that all men have sinned and therefore are worthy of death, for the soul that sins must die. The defendant replies that he is guilty, but he couldn't help it, that he is no worse than other sinners, that he will try to do better in the future. The judge answers that there is help from one who is mighty to save and strong to deliver. The best of men are bad enough, preachers included. This high-brow stuff won't save anybody. A high-brow is one who is educated beyond his intelligence. "If I give my body to be burned, it will profit me nothing without love." Membership in all the churches, and knowledge of all the rituals and creeds will have no effect upon character. As a last resort, man decides to appeal to the mercy of the court and sue for pardon. As Lincoln pardoned the soldier condemned to be shot, so you need God's pardon for sin. But God answers that he cannot set aside his law. It has been violated and the penalty must be inflicted. Then, behold the wonder of Divine love and sacrifice. The arbitrator descends from his tribunal and offers to suffer the penalty of death of the sinner. That is the explanation of Calvary. By the acceptance of this sacrifice, peace is effected between God and man upon the principles of justice and mercy. Both parties have won the case, for the law has been vindicated, the sinner is permitted to go free, and both are united in the sweetest strongest bond that is known to man.

JACKSONVILLE FARM SUPPLY COMPANY

PRESENT ARGUMENT FOR LOCAL CIGAR MAKERS
Jacksonville, Ill.,
March 24, 1923.

Apropos of a large ad. of a local wholesale grocery company appearing in local papers, it is well to state that it sounds familiar to us, since we made a similar appeal to the merchants of Jacksonville, through the C. of C. last year. Thanks to its industrial committee there was some action taken, at least they visited all local dealers and made them acquainted with our story.

We estimate that 50 more cigarmakers could be employed here if all dealers would handle only home made cigars. Not only the 50 cigarmakers, but more strippers, packers, boxmakers and other help could be employed. Time was when these dealers were proud to do this, and Jacksonville gained a big reputation in the cigar industry.

We walked the streets much of last year. We do not work full time even now, just because some dealers persist in enabling Joplin, Mo., or Evansville, Ind., cigarmakers to thrive and boost their cities with your money. What shall we boost our city and our local merchants with? How in the name of common sense do you expect us with a limited earning capacity, and under the above conditions, to agree with you or buy your goods?

You may say: well, go to work at something else. They did. Two donned overalls; another, as salesman in wholesale grocery, two went into and are yet in the insurance business, one went to work for the State, several in the building line, 5 donned overalls in the street paving gang. Quite a few went out on farms. The others did not get away because there was nothing for them.

Much of the prosperity of Jacksonville is due to the thrifty cigar business of Jacksonville in the past 20 years. You have allowed it to lag behind, and when it begins to be felt in your tills, then you cry for help. Before you get it you must help yourselves in the way indicated.

Very Truly,
The Cigar Industry of Jacksonville,

Manchester, March 26.—One of the most largely attended funerals ever held in Manchester was that in memory of Mrs. Nancy Ann Moore, held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the M. E. church. The services were of a very impressive character and were in charge of Rev. H. M. Ingram, assisted by Rev. L. H. Williams of Alton and Rev. W. C. Greer of North Carolina.

Musie was furnished by a quartet including Mrs. J. C. Andras, Jr., Mrs. J. H. Langdon, M. W. Story and C. L. Lettze, with Miss Louise Pearce at the piano. FATE OF C. P. & ST. L. IS STILL IN DOUBT

Illinois Commerce Commission and State Courts Will Consider Problem—J. J. Reeve Reviews Case and Letter to Congressman Elect Rainey.

Mention was made Sunday of the action of the interstate commerce commission in authorizing the abandonment of the C. P. & St. L. so far as the federal government is concerned. As stated, that action meant that the fate of the road is in the hands of the Illinois state commerce commission and the Illinois courts. In a letter already published,

John J. Reeve, who is one of the attorneys interested in abandonment proceedings, expressed to Senator Searcy his views with respect to the road. Some other facts as Mr. Reeve sees them are outlined in a letter to Congressman-elect Henry T. Rainey. This letter reads as follows:

Letter to Mr. Rainey.

March 24, 1923.

Hon. Henry T. Rainey, Carrollton, Illinois.

My Dear Mr. Rainey: I received your letter with reference to the C. P. & St. L. proposition. I have thought and talked some with parties about getting a loan from the revolving fund of the government to help the C. P. & St. L. However, I think it would be money absolutely thrown away, if it is simply to pay off the receiver's certificates, coal bills, etc., and to attempt to operate the road along the same lines it has been operated. If there could be a complete reorganization and a new management take hold of this road, that really wanted to make it pay its own way, and the interstate commerce commission would keep hand off until the child could at least walk, I think there would be great hope of accomplishing something.

Personally, I think the property owners along the line of this road ought to get from half to a million dollars' worth of the bonds of a new organization, such amount to be distributed among not less than five thousand owners of property along the line of the road, and thereby tie in five thousand advertising agents for the road, and let those bondholders have about two or three out of the nine directors of the road, and instead of paying station agents along the road, that cannot possibly do an hour's work in a day, $140.00 or $150.00 a month, pay them what their time is actually worth, and pay other employees along the same line and make the road a community proposition tying together various little communities. Instead of trying to do an interstate business, make it a purely local road for picking up freight and delivering it to terminal points and there pass it over to some other road.

I have no faith whatever in the present mode of operation of this road. I am not thereby intending to say that the present management is dishonest, or even inefficient. What I mean is that in my judgment it is one of these cases where we will say a person honestly thinks he knows how to do a thing, when as a matter of fact the results which he has obtained show that he does not know how to do it.

This thing of operating a railroad or any other enterprise wholly by persons who have a speculative loan upon it and no body being interested from any other viewpoint, is a failure. It is my judgment that if this road is ever made a successful going concern, the citizenship along this road who are now claiming they will be damaged from eight to ten million dollars, if the road is junked, must get interested in the road and must patronize the road with their traffic, and if they have got from half to a million of hard earned money in the road and are helping to direct the management of the road, I believe that this result could be brought about.

Yours very truly,

J. J. Reeve.

Some interesting comment with reference to the road was made in the following paragraphs which appeared yesterday in the Chicago Journal of Commerce:

Court May Order Sale.

The permit giving the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis the right to discontinue interstate service leaves numerous problems and conditions which may comfort Springfield authorities as the matter progresses.

It is probable that the receivers of the road will report the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission to the circuit court, the court may then direct the receivers to apply to the Illinois State Commerce Commission to discontinue interstate business and operation. If, in the judgment of the circuit court, such authority is not required from the Illinois State Commerce Commission, it may order the sale of the property under foreclosure proceedings without having obtained the commission's authority to discontinue interstate business. This would raise the question whether the circuit court has complete jurisdiction in the matter of discontinuing interstate business on railroads, or whether the authority and power rests with the commerce commission.

The question of dismantling the road could be brought before the commission by an application made on the part of any person or corporation operating a business served by the company. If such action were taken, the question of the relative rights of the state commission and the circuit court in determining questions of service in which the public has an interest could be determined.

Illinois Body Early Involved.

In the application made by the receiver before the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Illinois Commerce Commission listened to a part of the testimony. After it had been established that the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railroad Company had shipping connections with other railroads engaged in interstate commerce, and the case therefore seemed to be brought within the meaning of the transportation act, the Illinois commission withdrew from the hearing in so far as it was to affect interstate business.

The state commission originally assumed jurisdiction in the hearing, probably because of the fact that it had developed that the railroad did not have track connections with an interstate carrier, it would be entirely an interstate road and would come within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Illinois commission. The latest development in the case, however, will depend upon the position assumed by the circuit court of Sangamon county.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT HELD FOR SLAYING

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., March 26.—Mrs. Thelma Beyer, said to be the wife of Randall Beyer, a student at the University of Minnesota, was shot and killed here today. Filmore Heikkila, a high school student, was held pending the coroner's inquest. Heikkila is said by the authorities to have told them the shooting was accidental.

Mrs. Beyer had been estranged from her husband for several months and with her baby, made her home with her parents in Sault Ste Marie, Ontario.

She was killed in a room here that had been occupied by Heikkila.

Officers said they found no evidence of a quarrel and that the woman, who was 19 years old, apparently was shot while dressing her hair before a mirror. The bullet entered her head behind the right ear.

Randall Beyer is the son of R. B. Beyer, city commissioner here. Heikkila is a senior in the local high school and has a reputation as a basketball and football star.

St. Louis, Mo., March 26.—The Railway Exchange Building company, owner of one of the largest office buildings in the world, located here, was adjudged bankrupt by Judge Farris in federal court here today.

The petition in bankruptcy was filed by creditors and Claude Tackett, manager of the building has been appointed receiver. The cause ascribed for the financial collapse is the incurrence of the building by a large number of long term leases at rates much below prevailing rentals.

NEW HOTEL FUND SHOWS GROWING INTEREST

Total of Subscriptions Now $140,200.—Team Workers at Monday's Luncheon Reported People Willing to Buy Stock as Soon as They Understand Project

There was plenty of enthusiasm at the Monday meeting of the team workers in the new hotel campaign. Additional subscriptions were announced, which make the total to date $140,200.

There were about 50 workers present and brief talks were made by M. F. Dunlap, Henry Frisch, Frank Byrns, E. A. Brennan, L. S. Reid and others. In fact it was, as will be the case, every day, a free for all and every one who had a suggestion about the project made it. The campaign managers realize that the subscriptions would have come in a little more rapidly if the campaign had been preceded by a greater amount of publicity. Many people are just beginning to understand the general plan to be followed. They are learning some new facts about the acute need for a new hotel and also something about the generally prosperous condition which modern hotels find themselves these days.

The opportunity for investing in a safe business enterprise and at the same time helping build up the home community has its appeal as soon as people thoroughly understand the proposition.

Today letters will be sent to 2,000 or 3,000 people giving some further explanation of the hotel program and still other forms of publicity will be used, with the purpose in view of finishing the stock sale within a comparatively few days.

In suggesting that a modern hotel building will mean greatly increased hotel traffic here, the committee is able to point to the experience of a great many other cities no larger than Jacksonville, where new hotel projects have been put over quickly by the untiring effort of the business men and have made satisfactory investment returns.

The Sunday school attendance Sunday reached the high-water mark of 154. According to agreement, when the attendance ran up to that figure, J. A. Walters took a photograph of the school in front of the church. The special feature of the school was a song by the primary department, entitled, "Little Song Birds." The pastor preached a sermon to the Sunday school on "Canned Sunshine." The subject of the regular sermon was "Big Business," in which the pastor showed that the biggest business of this or any age is getting men to God and that in our anxiety about so-called big business men lose the opportunity of laying up eternal treasures, of becoming acquainted with God and bringing the Gospel to the world. At the close of the sermon, two persons united with the church. There will be Passion Week services at this church every evening this week except Saturday. At these meetings, beautiful stereopticon views will be shown illustrating the events of Passion week. The subject for Monday night will be "Jesus, the Great Physician." Everybody is invited. Admission will be free, but an offering will be taken to pay expense.

Grace Church Doings

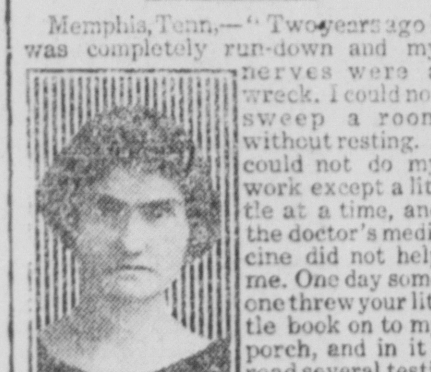

The contest with the Bloomington Sunday school is an absorbing question in the church life just now. With a large attendance in Sunday school, the local school passes into the lead by a good lead. It is really surprising how folks can get into the habit of being on time when it is necessary. The local school had an attendance of 473 with 571 of the attendants on time and 9 new scholars. Bloomington had an attendance of 450 with 348 on time and 7 new scholars.

Next Sunday a special Easter program is being planned and an attendance of 500 in Sunday school is being looked for with 400 on time. Miss Susan Rinehart played a violin solo in a very artistic manner to the delight of the school.

At the morning service the pastor took for his theme, "The Well of Bethlehem by the Gate." If ever there was a searching sermon delivered in Grace church for the home makers, his was one of the very strongest.

Tells How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Memphis, Tenn.—"Two years ago I was completely run-down and my nerves were a wreck. I couldn't sweep a room without resting. I could not do my work except a little at a time, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. One day some one threw your little book on to my porch, and in it I read several testimonials of women who had been like myself. I went right out and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of that bottle I knew it was helping me. I took six bottles, and then in about three months I took two more. Now I am in perfect health. I do all of my own work and could do more. I can truly say that I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave me my health."—Mrs. O. J. HINCKLEY, 316 Union Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

MRS. C. A. FIEDLER LAID TO REST MONDAY

Impressive Funeral Services Were Held at Centenary Church on Monday Afternoon—Burial in Diamond Grove Cemetery.

Impressive funeral services in memory of Mrs. Charles A. Fiedler were held at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon from Centenary M. E. church. The church auditorium was completely filled with friends of the deceased, who was so well and favorably known in this community.

The services were in charge of Rev. C. D. Robertson, pastor of Centenary church, assisted by Rev. James R. Sager of Hillsboro. Rev. Mr. Sager was a former pastor of both Mr. and Mrs. Fiedler in their younger days and has kept in close touch with them during the intervening years.

The Scripture lesson was read by Rev. Mr. Robertson, who then offered prayer. Rev. Mr. Sager delivered the funeral discourse and had a comforting message for the bereaved family.

Music was furnished by a quartet including Miss Cora Graham, Miss Fern Haigh, Messrs. T. H. Rapp and A. C. Metcalf.

The floral tributes were cared for by Mrs. Frank Cannon, Mrs. Ralph Cowgur, Mrs. Philip Henderson and Mrs. D. B. Gaskins, all of whom were associated with the deceased as members of the U. C. T. club.

Burial was made in Diamond Grove cemetery, the services at the grave being in charge of the Eastern Star. The pall bearers were William Shible, David McCarty, Harry Strawn, Alex Rabjohns, Ralph Cowgur and Gus Faugust.

MRS. A. W. ATWOOD DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Deceased in Earlier Years Identified with Jacksonville Public Schools—Funeral Will be Held Today.

The end of the long life journey came Sunday morning when Mrs. A. W. Atwood passed away at 6:40 o'clock at the home of her sisters, Mrs. L. K. Hatch and Miss Fannie King, 830 West State street.

Although twenty-five or thirty years of her life were spent elsewhere, Mrs. Atwood really belonged to Jacksonville, as she came to this city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. King, as a young woman.

Mrs. Atwood was born March 21, 1842, in Lexington, Ky., the family removing to this city in 1868. For a period of years Mrs. Atwood as Miss Mollie King was a teacher in the public schools of Jacksonville and for much of that time was principal of the first ward school, and many citizens of the present look back upon their earlier days when they were pupils in her school room.

The deceased was united in marriage in 1886 with A. W. Atwood, and their home was established in Plattsmouth, Neb., where Mr. Atwood was long a successful business man. In the later years of his life Mr. Atwood made his home in LaGrange, Ill., and it was there his death occurred in November, 1921. Subsequent to that time Mrs. Atwood came to Jacksonville to spend the remaining days of life with her sisters.

Thru months of long invalidism Mrs. Atwood was given the most tender care. Though a sufferer she met each day with a calmness and patience which proved an inspiration to those about her. A devout Christian, Mrs. Atwood found comfort and consolation thru all the years in her Bible and thru familiar passages, those about her knew how firmly her faith was grounded.

Mrs. Atwood is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Hallie A. Newell of St. Louis, and one son, L. L. Atwood of Larange, together with two sisters, Mrs. Hatch and Miss King.

The funeral will be held at the residence, 830 West State street, this morning at 10 o'clock. The services will be in charge of Rev. W. Marbach, pastor of State church, and interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

RETURN FROM TRIP TO CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Brady and son, Thompson, have returned to Jacksonville after an absence of fourteen weeks in California. They spent much of their time in Long Beach, where Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Thompson, Parents of Mrs. Brady, are making an extended stay.

With Long Beach as headquarters Mr. Brady took various trips which covered quite thoroly the places of interest in the coast state. Although Mr. Brady has been a regular visitor to Michigan he has never before taken such an extended vacation as this California trip has meant, and he returns to Jacksonville feeling very much refreshed and ready to buckle down to business with his customary vigor.

Many Jacksonville friends of Mr. Thompson, who have been ill with the flu, will be glad to know that he is now well on the way to recovery.

A new lot of beautiful dresses for every occasion, just received.

U. S. SPENDS HUGE

Edward Clifford in Address Before Union League Club in New York City Gave Interesting Facts About Government Expenditures.

At a dinner given by the Union League club of New York City recently Col. Edward Clifford, assistant secretary of the treasury, made an address. Col. Clifford's theme was "How the Government Spends Its Income." In this address Col. Clifford very clearly outlined the big financial transactions in which the government engages.

Figures were shown to indicate the improvement in the business affairs of the government because of the substantial economies inaugurated by the administration.

In the course of his address Col. Clifford made reference to the great ability of Secretary Mellon has brought to the treasury department, as on the basis of the record in his own private business and as a public official the speaker said that the secretary has a right to place as one of the country's greatest financial minds.

Paraphrases from the address follows:

Increases Since War.

The magnitude of government expenditures during and since the World War has greatly increased the importance and influence of government finance in our economic system. You may not realize that government expenditures during the four fiscal years 1917 to 1920 were approximately 50 per cent greater than the total cost of the government from its inception in 1789 to 1916, although four wars were waged during that period, the War of 1812, the Mexican war, the Civil war, and the Spanish-American war. The aggregate of expenditures for those four years (1917-1920) was nearly $40,000,000,000 as compared with less than $27,000,000,000 during the entire previous existence of the government, covering 127 years.

The outlay in 1919 alone was over 18 1/2 billion dollars. The consequent growth in the public debt, the higher general price level, and the increased governmental activities have resulted in annual government expenditures many times greater than the pre-war level, and the trend of these expenditures is of vital concern to every individual.

One of the outstanding achievements of the present administration is the economy which has been offered in government expenditures during the past two years of its activities. During the fiscal year 1921, which ended just four months after the present administration came into power, government expenditures were $5,538,000,000. They were reduced to $3,795,000,000 during 1922, the full fiscal year of the Harding administration. The reduction in expenditures during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1922, as compared with the previous fiscal year, therefore, was approximately $1,700,000,000, while the surplus of receipts over expenditures for the year amounted to about $300,000,000. That this was accomplished in the face of the unfavorable prospects that confronted the Treasury at the beginning of the year is due to the unremitting efforts of the government departments and establishments under the leadership of the president to reduce current expenditures to the utmost consistency with proper administration. And it is no mean accomplishment, for current expenditures during the year were about 600 million dollars less than the spending departments themselves estimated would be necessary at the outset of the year.

This Year's Showing.

During the current fiscal year the cost of the government, according to latest estimates, will be about $3,574,000,000 or about $200,000,000 less than during the previous fiscal year, and nearly $2,000,000,000 less than during the fiscal year 1921. The whole administration is striving to reduce further these expenditures and I am hopeful that a substantial accomplishment in this direction will be reached. The Bureau of the Budget was established shortly after President Harding was inaugurated and has been a most effective agency of the president in bringing about a reduction in government expenditures. Through the co-ordination of government activities under the general supervision of the Bureau of Budget and the effective cooperation of the heads of the various departments and establishments of the government, important savings have been effected and will continue to be made.

During the same fiscal year, 1922, the sinking fund and other public debt retirements chargeable against ordinary receipts took $423,000,000 or about 11 per cent of government expenditures, the Veterans' Bureau $407,000,000 or over 10 per cent, and pensions $245,000,000 or 7 per cent of total expenditures. Thus these four items, interest on the public debt, sinking fund, etc., Veterans' Bureau and pensions, which are due entirely to past wars, constituted over one-half—54.6 per cent to be exact—of the total expenditures. There will probably be but little reduction in these disbursements during the next few years.

The determined efforts for economy made it possible over a year ago to proceed with a revision of internal taxes with a view of reducing the tax burdens for all classes of the community. The result is that the revenue act of November, 1921, made a substantial reduction in the tax burden, running over $800,000,000 for the current fiscal year, as compared with what would have been collected under the old law, and at the same time provide for the repeal or reduction of several of the most vexatious and burdensome taxes and for the simplification of the taxes that remain in force.

The Public Debt Reduced.

Not only has this reduction in expenditures been effected but during the two years of the Harding administration the public debt has been reduced over a billion and a quarter dollars. The cost of the war had to be financed in large measure through loans, which resulted in a towering public debt. This debt rose from less than a billion dollars at the beginning of the war to $26,596,000,000 on August 31, 1919, the high point. Since that date it has been reduced nearly $3,900,000,000, to about $22,700,000,000 on March 1, 1923.

The most immediate problem of the Treasury has been, of course, the refinancing of this short dated debt. President Harding in his first address to congress stated that the short-dated debt of the nation would be subjected to "orderly funding and gradual liquidation" and this is the policy which the treasury department has been pursuing. It has been the traditional policy of this government since its very foundation to set about paying its debts and that policy it has consistently followed since the ending of the World War with results that have a far-reaching significance in the development of our economic situation. At the beginning of this administration the short-dated debt maturing within 2-1/3 years was about seven and one half billion dollars. About six and one half billions of this short-dated debt has been either retired or refunded since the beginning of this administration, leaving only about a billion which has to be financed this year. Thus the present Republican Administration has not only affected a material reduction in the gross public debt, but by sound financing it has already accomplished the refunding of the greater part of the short-dated debt, without either disturbance to business or strain on the financial markets. On the contrary what has been done has tended to relieve the markets of the fear of spectacular government operations and has been helpful to the recovery of business.

The British Settlement.

Passing from the field of domestic finance, the most striking accomplishment has been the settlement of the indebtedness of the British Government to the United States. This settlement has been approved both by the British Cabinet and by Congress, and therefore becomes immediately effective. It provides for the payment in full of the British debt, amounting to $4,600,000,000 to the United States over a period of 62 years, with interest for the first 10 years at 3 per cent and for the remainder of the period at 3 1/2 per cent. The World War Foreign Debt Commission in its report to the President has well expressed the significance of the settlement in the following terms:

"This settlement between the British government and the United States has the utmost significance. It is a business settlement, fully preserving the integrity of the obligations, and it represents the first step in the readjustment of the inter-governmental obligations growing out of the war."

Frequent suggestions have been made for the cancellation in whole or in part of these foreign debts. But what assurance have we that such action would bring constructive results and enhance the general economic welfare sufficiently to justify the placing of this burden upon the American taxpayer? The moral and contractual obligation cannot be questioned and there could be little justification for undermining international credit by taking such a step. Undoubtedly the sentiment of the great majority of the people of the United States is against cancellation.

We are indeed fortunate during these times when the nation is striving to get its finances in normal condition that we have as Secretary of the Treasury a man of such high attainments, financial experience and outstanding ability as Mr. Andrew W. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, and that as he has as his chief assistant one of the brilliant members of the New York bar, Mr. Parker Gilbert, the under secretary of the treasury. They are not the sort of men who talk about what they are doing, but in their quiet forceful way they are solving these great problems, and to my mind they have already demonstrated that they rank with the ablest financiers of our time.

I. C. CROSS COUNTRY
RUN THIS AFTERNOON

Fourth Annual Event Will Be Held This Afternoon—Twenty Men Have Been Practicing—Not Known How Many Will Start in Race

The fourth annual cross country run at Illinois College will be held this afternoon at 4:30. The runners will start on the football field, go northwest to College avenue, west on College avenue to Grand avenue, north on Grand avenue to West Lafayette avenue, east on West Lafayette avenue to Webster avenue, south on Webster to College avenue, east on College avenue to the football field, once and a half around the cinder running track. This distance is two miles.

Fifteen or twenty men have been running cross country since January 1st. They are permitted to substitute this running, which is done three times a week, for the required gymnasium exercises. How many of these men will compete in the final run today is not known as this competition is purely voluntary.

In the first run over this course in 1920, James Hatfield, now a Senior in college, was the winner. He has not competed in subsequent runs. Jess Itiner, now a Junior, who won in 1921, has not contested since then but he may be in the race today.

Last year Frank Douglas, running as a Freshman, won the race and set a new record for the course, 11 minutes and 42 2/5 seconds. Douglas is not in school this year. Dude, who finished second last year, and Hubert, who finished fourth, will both ramble over the course this afternoon.

Gold, silver and bronze medals of a special design will be awarded to the winners of first, second and third places, respectively.

ANNOUNCE PERSONNEL OF DEBATING TEAMS

Students Who Will Uphold Honor of J. H. S. in Battles with Quincy and Springfield on Apr.
27. Are Made Known—Ship
Subsidy Question to Be Bone of Contention

Principal W. L. Kaiser of the high school yesterday announced the names of those who will make up the affirmative and negative debating teams of the school for the coming tri-state league debates with Quincy and Springfield. The teams were selected by means of try-outs held last week. The debates will be staged on the evening of April 27, and the Springfield affirmative will meet the Jacksonville negative team here, while the local affirmative team will go to Quincy.

Members and alternates on the Jacksonville teams are as follows:

Affirmative team: Caroline Doan, Ed Hill and Lee Baldwin, with Jane Smith as alternate.

Negative team: Alan Kelley, Edith Ruyle and Harry Furry, with Sheldon Nichol as alternate.

The teams will now set to work gathering material and preparing speeches on the question for debate, which is: "Resolved, that the United States Government should subsidize all ships owned by United States citizens and flying the United States flag, if used for the benefit of the public." The question was a favorite with the Quincy high school, and the Jacksonville teams readily assented to debate it.

MANY DELEGATIONS TO SPRINGFIELD

March threatens February's record in the number of delegations to Springfield in the interest of hard roads construction. This is in the face of a handicap of a week in favor of February, since the first March delegation arrived on the 7th. Up to the 21st of March delegations representing thirty-one counties had called upon Governor Small to show consideration of various routes, and it is noteworthy that without a single exception their spokesmen informed the state's chief executive that the people they represented are unequivocally in favor of the proposed $100,000,000 bond issue. This month's delegations included those from the following counties:

Effingham, Marion, Jackson, Union, Alexander, Pulaski, Adams, Hancock, Coles, Moultrie, DeWitt, Christian, Montgomery, Waiteville, Mercer, Henry, Rock Island, Franklin, Joliet, Cassopolis, Greene, Randolph, Gallatin, Morgan, Brown, Will, Kankakee, Woodford, Livingston, Marshall, Warren and Putnam. The delegation from Warren, 125 strong, assured Governor Small that, despite certain opposition propaganda being spread there, the county will give the $100,000,000 bond issue an overwhelming majority when it is voted upon.

Skin Ablaze
with Eczema

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red blood cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, itching, irritation, and pain vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unbearable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes: "My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and is well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

TO GIVE EASTER CANTATA.

The Cantata "Redemption" by Manney is to be rendered by the choir of State Street Presbyterian church next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. The State Street church singers will be assisted by a special quartet.

All persons are cordially invited to enjoy this Easter praise service and to share in making a substantial offering, which in turn is to be given for the building of the Isolation Annex of Passavant hospital.

Mrs. Barr Brown is directing the preparations for the rendition of the beautiful cantata, and a worthwhile Easter praise service is assured.

WHITTY THROWS HIS CANE AWAY

Declares Tanlac Overcame Rheumatism and Indigestion Entirely—Gains 15 Pounds.

"My strong healthy condition tells the story of what Tanlac has done for me better than words," said William Whitty, retired miner, living at 2000 Calumet Ave., Chicago, Ill.

"Before I took Tanlac my nerves were so unstrung I thought they would go to pieces; I had no appetite, and after meals my food seemed to seethe with sourness and burned like fire in the pit of my stomach. I almost smothered from gas, and was also handicapped with constipation, headaches and dizziness. Rheumatism had me where I could hardly bend my back, and I had to hobble around with a cane.

"An Easterner persuaded me to try the Tanlac treatment, and five bottles has me feeling like a man made over. I have gained fifteen pounds in weight and in fact never felt better in my life than I do right now."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold. (adv.)

SHOULD BRING IN WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Many Have Not Yet Presented Stamps for Redemption—Interest Ceased January 1.

Many Morgan county and Jacksonville residents have not yet presented their 1918 war savings stamps for redemption at the local postoffice, according to a statement made by Postmaster Ralph I. Dunlap yesterday.

Though interest ceased on this issue January 1, and though ample notice was given thru the press to holders to bring them in a great many have not responded. One woman, Mr. Dunlap said, brought in $200 worth last week. When asked why she had been so long about presenting them she said she was sick at the time and had not thought about it since.

Postmaster Dunlap is anxious if possible to get all of the war savings stamp business cleared up and out of the way when he turns over the office to his successor. If holders will present them at the office any time during business hours they will be taken care of.

According to an Associated Press dispatch received in the Journal last week over $80,000,000 of the 1918 issue are still outstanding. This represents a large amount of money in interest that the holders have lost since January 1, thru neglect in not presenting their stamps for redemption in December.

AGED GERMAN MAGNATE NEVER SHUNS HIS WORK

HAMBORN, Germany.—Unemployment may rule in the Ruhr, miners be idle and railroad men on strike, bricklayers working half time and jewelers not at all, but there is one man who works on forever.

His name is August Thyssen, aged 81, founder of the steel dynasty bearing his name. Promptly at the stroke of eight the venerable old man is at his desk. Eloquent at night very often finds him still at work. This steel man is indeed a man of steel.

Personally, twice a day, he visits one or the other of his large plants, either at Hamborn, Mulheim, Duisburg, Dinslaken or Düsseldorf. Tall and gaunt, walking with a brisk, springy step for one so advanced in years, stepping here and there to exchange a word with some of the veteran employees in his service, his progress through the works seems to assume the sacredness of a rite.

Frugal and modest, this millionaire spends less for his personal upkeep than many of his yard bosses or section foremen.

The correspondent met him the other day at the conclusion of his tour around the Hamborn works.

"I don't know what I can tell you about the situation," he said in response to a query. "Ask this man there, he is much more competent than I am," he said, pointing to one of his managers.

"Have you ever met Clemenceau?" the correspondent asked apropos of nothing except the extraordinary similarity of expression of the upper part of the face of both men. Thyssen is much taller than the "Tiger."

"No, but I should very much like to."

Going to a desk, the old man took from a drawer what appeared to be a document and handed it to the correspondent.

"Let me give you a little souvenir," he said.

It was a signed photograph of himself.

"Workers who have been in the service for 25 years receive this photograph," said the employee who escorted the correspondent to the door. "You have been here only 25 minutes. It is now going on 22 years since I began to work here. I will receive one of these photographs in 1926."

"Why did Herr Thyssen frown when I mentioned the Kaiser?" the correspondent asked of the employee.

"Herr Thyssen has much cause to frown," replied the clerk. "The Kaiser treated him shabby. He would accept drawings, plans, new inventions for guns, light and heavy artillery, drawn up and perfected by the chief, and then the War Office would have the guns made in the Krupp works. It was quite wrong."

HEAVY SELLING

BRINGS REACTION

FINANCIAL.
Day's total sales 1,233,000 shares.
Twenty Industrials averaged
102.36; net loss .92.
High 1923—105.38; low
96.96.
Twenty railroads averaged
87.69; net loss 1.09.
High 1923—90.63; low
84.53.
Total sales (par value) $11-
556,000.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Heavy selling for both accounts brought about another sharp reaction in today's stock market. Higher call money rates and speculative apprehension over the outcome of the meeting of the governors of the federal reserve board in Washington this week were outwardly attributed as the reasons for selling pressure but the numerous sales of large blocks of recent speculative favorites indicated liquidation by pools which had become discouraged by their failure to attract an outside following.

Opening prices were heavy in response to the selling pressure emanating from trades unwilling or unable to meet the week end margin calls. The subsequent rally was attributed to short covering by the professionals but when this was not followed up the offering of stocks increased and the margin again turned heavy.

California petroleum was the individual feature and one of the few outstanding exceptions to the reactionary trend.

Not losses of 1 to 2 points were recorded by such industrial favorites as Baldwin Locomotive,
Republic, Crucible and Gulf States
Steel, Kelly Springfield and United States Rubber; Pan-American
"A," Sinclair, Couden and Pacific
Oil; American Car, American
Woolen, Pullman, Stromberg,
Carburetor and many others.
Speculative disappointment of the showing made in the first February railroad earnings report caused heavy liquidation in that group. Call money opened at 5 1/2 per cent, the highest recent rate in some time and advanced to six during the noon hour, closing at that figure. The time money market was quiet with a few short maturities being arranged at 5 1/2 per cent, the bankers' asking price.

Altho the ruling rate of prime commercial paper is still five per cent that is an increasing volume of 6 1/2 per cent paper.

Wide fluctuations in French francs were the feature of the foreign exchange market.

The net losses in the United States government bonds ranged from 1-32 to 10-32 of one point.

Save from $52 to $78
a year

You will be amazed to see how the use of "Bull" Durham will cut down the cost of your smoking.

How is it possible to give you quality at the low cost of 10 cents for 50 cigarettes?

Here's one reason: The government tax alone on 50 machine-made cigarettes is 15 cents—5 CENTS MORE THAN THE COST OF 50 "BULL" DURHAM CIGARETTES TO YOU!

The average smoker saves $1 to $1.50 a week by "rolling his own" from "Bull"—or from $52 to $78 a year. This makes quite a Christmas fund—or pays for a fine trip.

GENUINE

DURHAM
TOBACCO

What a place "Bull" Durham holds in the hearts of Americans! Can you think of any other brand that has been the favorite of three generations?

Look at its history. From the Civil War to the Great War "Bull" Durham has been the American's greatest standby. Sixty years.

There really is no smoke in the world so altogether satisfactory.

A "Bull" smoker never switches. You can't interest him in any new experiments. He carries his preference wherever he goes.

This is because the special flavor and aroma of "Bull" Durham make a cigarette that can not be duplicated.

Find out. You will never know how good a cigarette can really be until you roll your own out of "Bull".
